This course is focused on Norovirus in the healthcare setting. The background, epidemiology, clinical significance and features of Norovirus will be discussed in great detail. Comprehensive information will be given on how to identify, prevent and control outbreaks in the healthcare environment.

Upon completion of this course, you will be able to:

- Discuss the Biology & Epidemiology of Norovirus (The Virus, Clinical features, Immunity, Transmission and Outbreaks in healthcare & non-healthcare settings)
- Discuss the Diagnostic Methods
- Describes Prevention and Control of Norovirus.
- Explain the Reporting & Assistance of Norovirus.

Contact Hours : 2 Hours

Course Fee: $ 10 / Participant

Author: Alpesh Patel, MBBS, MPH, CERC,CPHA

Nursing Board Approvals:

California Board of Registered Nursing – Provider ID: CEP15746
Florida Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
Georgia Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
Arkansas Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
South Carolina Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
District of Columbia Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
New Mexico Board of Nursing – Provider ID: 50-12950
West Virginia Nursing Board – Provider ID: 50-12950

Nursing continuing education courses approved by other state licensing boards are accepted by / satisfies continuing education requirements in following states:

Please refer to your state licensing board rules & regulations for most current requirements and continuing education hours requirements for your profession.